AMERICA'S ELECTRIC COOPERATIVES

TAKING ACTION

It's a fact, whether we like it or not, decisions made in Washington, D.C. and at our state capitals impact us from how much we pay for electricity to what benefits we provide our employees. That's why it is so important to elect and re-elect people who understand the concerns of America's Electric Cooperatives. And, that's where ACRE® comes in.

The Action Committee for Rural Electrification® (ACRE) is the federal Political Action Committee (PAC) of the National Rural Electric Cooperative Association (NRECA) and is backed by more than 36,000 eligible employees, managers, and consumer-owners across the country. It is truly a grassroots movement powered by thousands of contributors giving $2.08 a month, or about the cost of a cup of coffee.

"I'm a strong believer in ACRE, and you know our little contribution really adds up. And it makes me feel good to know that I've got somebody in Washington, D.C. fighting for me."

Josh Hess - Construction Crew Leader, Nolin Rural Electric Co-Op

ACRE unites us because it brings together people with common goals and interests but living in different states to financially support candidates running for federal office.

"Having a collective rural voice supporting issues that are relevant to electric co-operatives and our member-owners gives me a sense of hope that we are going to elect and re-elect candidates who share our views, values, and concerns."

Curtis Wynn - Vice President, NRECA Board of Directors

Your electric cooperative's ability to serve you and your community depends, in part, on electing and re-electing the right people into office.

ACRE is a bipartisan PAC that supports those who support us. A candidate's political affiliation is never taken into account - only that person's track record. And before a contribution is made, we work closely with our state associations to determine which candidates to support. In addition, about half of your contribution may be refunded to your state electric cooperative PAC to support candidates for state and local office.

Please join ACRE today!

For about the cost of a cup of coffee each month, you can be sure that your voice is heard in Washington, D.C. by joining the more than 36,000 eligible employees, directors, managers, and consumer-owners by visiting cooperative.com/ACRE, filling out the form in this brochure, or calling us at 703-907-6875.

Here's who can join ACRE:

Eligible: Directors; salaried employees with policymaking, managerial, professional or supervisory responsibilities; any consumer owner of an electric co-op that belongs to NRECA; spouses and immediate family residing in the same home as eligible individuals are all eligible to join ACRE.

Ineligible: Non-exempt hourly employees*; salaried foreman with direct supervision over hourly employees*; outside contractors, such as consultants or outside attorneys*; consumers of a public power district; foreign nationals; and the general public are not eligible to join ACRE. *If any of these non-exempt members are consumer owners of an electric co-op that belongs to NRECA, they can join ACRE through ACRE Co-op Owners for Political Action®. Minors in control of their own money may knowingly and voluntarily contribute.
